What was called the introduction reception given to Rev. E. Lewis Kelley at Dr. J. C. King's last Friday evening was attended by one hundred and twenty members of the church and congregation. It was a pleasant gathering.

The trustees of the M. E. church let the janitor work of the church last Thursday evening to Wm. Barkley. The new janitor takes charge the first of April. Aaron Rodgers has been janitor of the church for sometime.

The regular monthly meeting of the Reynoldsville Building and Loan Association was held in the Flynn hall Monday evening, at which time nineteen shares, representing $3,600, were sold at an average premium of 2 1/2 cents.

A dead dog was found in the alley between Main and Jackson sts., near Cole alley, last Sunday morning which threatened to spring a law suit to decide whose duty it was to bury the dead canine. The dog was buried peacefully.

The entertainment and ice cream festival given by the Union Sunday school in the Prescottville Baptist church last Wednesday evening was a success. The entertainment and ice cream were good and the proceeds amounted to $37.68.

Rev. W. P. Murray, of Omaha, Neb., formerly pastor of the Reynoldsville M. E. church, will lecture here on Monday evening, April 2nd, under the auspices of the G. A. R. Post and W. R. C. Place, admission, &c., will be announced next week.

Mrs. Sarah Kulp, who keeps a boarding house at Lock Haven, had a warrant issued last Wednesday morning for Evangelist Houser for slanderous language used at the Baptist church the night before. Houser left town before the sheriff called on him.

Lightning, thunder and snow are such an uncommon trio to combined that people commented on the strangeness thereof last Thursday morning when the lightnings flashed athwart the heavens, the thunder chariot rolled by and the air was filled with the "beautiful."

Two Italians and a female of West Reynoldsville were arrested yesterday morning for visiting a house on Poverty Flat where they raised "merry-ned" by smashing the windows and doing other damage. The case was taken before Squire Neff and settled by the Italians and their female "pard" paying for all damages and liquidating the cost.

Thomas Green and John "Marks" Conser, proprietors of Hotel Belpap, invested in some horse flesh at Brookville last Friday that is destined to make a record. The horse is only a two-year old, but the present owners thereof think there is no other horse in Reynoldsville that can throw its feet fast enough to keep up with their nag.

Last week we mentioned the death of an infant of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McClure, of West Reynoldsville. This week we are called upon to chronicle the death of Laura, their little two-year-old daughter, who died Monday, March 19th, 1894, and was buried in Beulah cemetery yesterday afternoon. Rev. J. C. McEntire conducted the funeral services.

People have little idea how much currency is mutilated in this country annually. The First National bank of Reynoldsville began business the first of June, 1893, and we have been informed by Mr. Kaucher, the cashier, that $1,350.00 of their money has been returned to Washington so badly mutilated that it could not take its place in the money market and that new bills will have to be made to take the place of the ones destroyed.

We received a communication yesterday at noon, which was too late for publication, containing the particulars of a birthday surprise party given last Friday night by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Neale to their son Albert in honor of his seventeenth birthday. About forty of his friends were present. His mother presented him with a very pretty chair and his father gave him "Pilgrims Progress," in two volumes. A good lunch was served and a very pleasant evening was enjoyed by all.

Charlie Sterley, son of M. S. Sterley, was eleven years old last Thursday and about twenty lads and lassies, carrying little presents with them, menandered around to Charlie's house soon after the evening shadows had come creeping over the hills, and there they whiled away several hours in having a jolly time and storing away some good things to tickle their young palates that had been previously prepared for the occasion. The boys and girls returned to their homes feeling glad that Charlie Sterley had been born.

County Surveyor Caldwell is surveying the borough limits, lots and streets of West Reynoldsville. He began the work yesterday afternoon.

Only a Little Time. Rev. E. Lewis Kelley, the Baptist minister that accepted a call to Reynoldsville recently, is an unmarried man, but we have been informed that according to a previous engagement it is only a matter of a short time until he joins the ranks.

School Notice. Miss Britta Butler and Miss Mame Aiman, teachers in the public school, will open a summer term Monday, May 7th. Tuition 75 cents per month. All thinking of sending their children to school, will find it profitable to patronize these young ladies, as they are experienced teachers.

Polander Pauper. The poor overseers of West Reynoldsville have a pauper on their hands that will cost them from fifty to a hundred dollars to get off the borough, and the fellow is not a citizen of this country nor has he ever paid a cent of taxes. He is a Polander who has been working at the tannery. The borough authorities will buy him a ticket, which will cost about $45, and send him back to his native land the last of this month.

Big Suckers. Alex. Riston, David Cochran, James Scott and Will Ford went down to O'Donnell's last Friday fishing. Cochran was the lucky man on this occasion. Two of the other fishermen got one fish apiece and Cochran came home with eight large suckers on his string. Two of them measured 16 1/2 inches apiece, two 13 inches, none of them less than 8 inches. Cochran's companions were fishing beside him, but the fish were not mad at their bait. It is ever thus. Some people get all that is going and others stand by and watch them fill their string.

Nuptial Knot. J. V. Young, a contractor of Reynoldsville, and Miss Sallie E. Lattimer, youngest daughter of Burgess Lattimer, were married at the home of David Postlethwait, on Hill street, last Wednesday evening, by Rev. P. J. Slattery, pastor of the M. E. church. Mr. and Mrs. Young had a house rented and furnished on Fourth street ready to occupy. They went to their new home the same evening they were married. The Keystone band serenaded the benedict and his bride. The calthumpians found their way to the new home and rendered a few selections of their hideous productions. Mr. and Mrs. Young have our best wishes for a prosperous and happy life.

A New Law Firm. We have been informed that W. L. McCracken, of Brookville, present district attorney of this county, and G. M. McDonald, a bright young man who was admitted to the Jefferson county bar last month, expect to open a law office at this place about the first of April, under the name of McCracken & McDonald. The gentlemen have not fully decided where their office will be, but think they will occupy a room on the second floor in the Nolan block. Mr. McDonald, who is an unmarried man, will have charge of the office at this place. This will give the Reynoldsville girls one more opportunity to improve the time as the days pass by. The young man is also a member of the Presbyterian church.

Died at Rathmel. Theobald Morningstar, an old gentleman of Rathmel, died at that place on Wednesday, March 14th, 1894. The funeral services were held in the Rathmel M. E. church on Friday afternoon, conducted by Rev. H. R. Johnson, pastor of the Reynoldsville Presbyterian church. The remains were interred in the Prospect cemetery. Mr. Morningstar was born Nov. 16th, 1809, and was 84 years, 3 months and 28 days old when the angel messenger called for him. He came from Bovania, Germany, to Ohio May 10, 1869. In April, 1883, he moved into the Keystone state and settled at Rathmel. His wife died Dec. 28, 1889, aged 74 years. The family consisted of seven children, four sons and three daughters. The three daughters and one son have also gone the way of all flesh, and only three sons survive.

Died From Childbirth. Mrs. Catharine Taafe, nee Rochford, wife of Richard Taafe, mine boss at the Sprague, died at 10.45 A. M., Sunday, March 18, 1894, from the effects of childbirth. She was 43 years old. She was born in England and when two years old came to America with her parents. September 11th, 1872, she was married to Richard Taafe. In the month of April 1873, the couple moved to Reynoldsville where they built for themselves a home and remained here until 1892 and then moved to Rathmel, where Mrs. Taafe died. The little girl that was eleven hours old when the mother died, made the eleventh child born to Mr. and Mrs. Taafe, four of them preceded their mother behind the veil that intervenes between time and eternity. The husband and six girls and one boy survive the deceased. Mrs. Taafe was a kind wife and an affectionate mother. The funeral services will be held in the Catholic church at this place at nine o'clock this morning, conducted by Father Brady, and the remains will be buried in the Catholic cemetery.

Law Suit. An interesting law suit, that was manufactured out of material that was not of a serious nature, occupied all of last Friday afternoon before Squire Neff's court of justice. James Gilmartin lived in a shanty that belonged to Ed. Mulhollan. Gilmartin claimed that Mulhollan wanted him to move without giving him time to pack his trunk and afterward locked the house so that Gilmartin could not get his clothing, &c., out of the shanty, and thus kept Gilmartin out of working for a short time. It was on the 15th of February the request for a hurried fitting was made. Gilmartin asked the law to grant him a damage of $299.00. The court granted him $25.00 damage and Mulhollan to pay costs.

Will Not Move It. We stated last week that John Warnick had bought Alex. Riston's house on Grant street and that he would move it onto a lot near the Baptist parsonage on Main street. The house will not be moved onto Main street. There is a fire limit in Reynoldsville, from the opera house to the Baptist church, on which no frame buildings can be erected within one hundred feet of Main street. There was a special meeting of Council last Friday evening at which time a proposition made by Mr. Warnick to tear down the old house where John Keller lives, which stands on Main street, and move the Riston house, which is a pretty frame structure onto the lot, was considered, but council decided not to grant the request, fearing if one man was granted that privilege others could build houses one hundred feet away from Main street and then move them up where they wanted them. Once the door was opened for such a privilege there would be no chance to close it.

Death of Mrs. McKee. Mrs. Nancy S. McKee, nee Cookson, was born in Millin county, Pa., December 11th, 1842. In the fall of 1845 moved with her parents to Clarion, and in 1858 united with the M. E. church at Strattonville, of which she was a consistent member until her spirit took its flight into the land where sorrow is unknown. The 31st of July, 1892, she was married to J. C. McKee. Eight children, five boys and three girls, were born to this couple, all of whom are now living to mourn for their mother. Mr. McKee moved to Reynoldsville in 1890, where his wife made many warm friends. For several years Mrs. McKee has been a victim of consumption and on Thursday, March 15th, 1894, she succumbed to the ravishings of the dread disease, at the age of 51 years, 3 months and 4 days. Funeral services were held in the M. E. church Saturday afternoon, conducted by Rev. P. J. Slattery. Interment took place in Beulah cemetery. Thus one by one the human family go down into the grave to await the resurrection morn.

Fergus-Hays. At 6.15 A. M., Wednesday, March 14th, 1894, Rev. H. R. Johnson, pastor of the Presbyterian church, performed a ceremony at the residence of John M. Hays, on Main street, that united two lives in the holy bonds of matrimony. The names of the twain that joined the knot who are drifting with the tide, was Robert Fergus, an industrious young man whose parents live in Lock Haven, and Miss Irene Hays, the handsome daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Hays. After partaking of a morning meal under the parental roof, the young couple left on the 7.40 A. M. train for Camp Run, a hamlet about four miles west of Reynoldsville, where a house, which had previously been furnished and supplied with groceries, was in readiness for them to begin living in their own home. Mr. Fergus knew that all well regulated homes must have a local paper, hence we had the pleasure of adding his name to THE STAR list. The couple have our best wishes for a success in life.

A Terror to Criminals. District Attorney McCracken was at Brookwayville recently and in conversation with the editor of the Record about the duties of his office, Mr. McCracken said one great drawback a district attorney finds is lack of cooperation, both on the part of the local officers and the people of a community in which a petty crime or depredation is committed. "If all constables were like Frank Adlesperger, of Reynoldsville," said Mr. McCracken, "the county attorney would have little difficulty in convicting criminals. Adlesperger never waits to make court returns of violations of law under his jurisdiction. He makes immediate information, and the case is then ready for trial at the next term of court. When constables wait until court to return cases, as many of them do, that delays proceedings until another term, and by that time the important witnesses have an opportunity to get out of the country and the interest in the case dies down. The county does not appreciate Adlesperger's efforts in the direction of law and good order." Mr. McCracken then went on to say that during his term of office Adlesperger had returned probably fifty cases, in every one of which the principals were convicted. The Reynoldsville constable is a terror to criminals, and the offender who gets into his clutches has little hope of escape.

GOOD REASONS FOR IT.

Italians and Hungarians No Longer Needed at Toby.

The following article was published in the DuBois Courier last Thursday morning as a special from Brookwayville: "The Northwestern Mining and Exchange company, operating on the Toby branch have concluded to dispense with the service of Italian and Hungarian miners. Several reasons are offered as an objection to their services. One is that they are devoid of views and ideas necessary to become practical miners. They don't see a dangerous place when they see it, nor can they be taught the practical methods of doing their work, to comply with the laws and for the protection of the more intelligent class of men employed about them. Another objection is their low, filthy manner of living. Not only do they make themselves miserable in their filth, but they endanger the lives of the community in which they live by breeding and importing filthy and loathsome diseases and thus the good work will begin."

We hope the day is not far distant when the Bell, Lewis & Yates C. M. Co. will follow the good example at Reynoldsville set by the Northwestern Mining and Exchange Co. The Italians and Hungarians come to this country and live on very little and pack into houses more like animals than human beings. They can save money and live on what an American would starve on. A very few of them ever become citizens and pay taxes. Their names seem to change with every new moon—even the companies for whom they work have to number them—and yet if these chaps are really in need they expect to be cared for and are thrown onto boroughs or townships. Then again they add to the expense of any county they stay in because of their quarrelsome disposition and free use of knives, which gets them into court. True this is a free country and our doors are open to all people, but the poor Chinaman, yet we do not believe our beloved America should be a dumping ground for any other nation. While we believe in giving every person a chance to earn an honest living yet we do not believe in "casting pearl before swine." People who want to enjoy the blessings of our land should be willing to become honest and loyal citizens and "chip in" a little to help support the country and not come here with a coffee-sack valise and expect the protection and privileges of America when they do nothing to merit such, and have no other object in view than to gather up as much of the "filthy lucre" of our land as possible and send it over the sea to their own native land. There are exceptional cases, for we have a few here who dress respectable and keep themselves clean, but the above item refers to them generally. This is a matter that is worthy of consideration, not only for the good of the American born working men, but for the future welfare of our country.

Odd Fellows' New Home.

The Odd Fellows of Reynoldsville have as pretty a lodge home as can be found within a radius of many miles. We mentioned last week that they had sold the furniture used in the room occupied by them in the Nolan block and that they would buy new furniture for their new hall in the Reynolds brick block. We had the pleasure of looking into the new I. O. O. F. rooms last Saturday. The outside ante-room contains good hard wood chairs, a washstand and mirror; the floor is covered with good matting. The inner ante-room contains the presses in which the paraphernalias and "goats" of different societies that meet there are locked up. The floor of this room is also covered with matting. The main lodge room, which is very large, is a beauty. The floor is covered with very handsome brussels carpet; the walls and ceiling are a pure white; a number of pretty pictures are hung on the walls; hard wood chairs with three links on them are setting along each side of the room; five hand covered oak pedestals add to the beauty of the room, four of them in front of the officers' seats and one in the center of the room to which all members who come late and all new members who are initiated must walk and salute the big mogul who occupies the presiding officers chair. All the other furniture of the room is hardwood. Everything being new gives the room a very neat appearance. The I. O. O. F., which is one of the most popular secret orders of to-day, was organized in America at Baltimore, Md., in 1819.

Summer School.

Prof. A. J. Postlewait will open a summer school in the public school building on Monday, March 7th, for a term of 8 weeks. This school will be for the benefit of the intermediate and grammar grades. Any one contemplating teaching will do well to attend. Tuition: intermediate grade $2.00; grammar grade, $2.50. For further information inquire of Mr. Postlewait.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our thanks to all those who so kindly assisted us during the sickness and death of our beloved wife and mother. Also to the Epworth League for beautiful flowers.

A Compliment.

Newton Beers, the leading character in the melo-drama, "Lost in London," played at the opera house last Friday night, paid the Keystone band of Reynoldsville, that furnished music for the company, a very high compliment. He said he had traveled from California to Main and had heard many bands, but had never heard a band that could play as fine music as the Reynoldsville Keystone band. The compliment was appreciated.

The Prescottville Union Sunday school desires to express their thanks to the Prescottville band for their kindness at the entertainment Wednesday evening, March 14th, and also to the people for their kind patronage.
